WHAT COULD HAPPEN IF YOU FAIL TO MEET YOUR COMMITMENTS

Security interests

This is secured credit. If you fail to meet your commitments under the contract, the creditor may be entitled to repossess and sell the goods you purchase from the creditor.

Description of security interests:

Property which is (or will be) subject to a security interest: The creditor has an interest in all the goods that you purchase from the creditor, to secure performance of your obligations under the contract and/or payment of money payable under the contract, or both. The creditor has the right to register a financing statement on the Personal Properties Securities Register to perfect their security interest in the goods you purchase.

If the creditor repossesses and sell the secured property but the proceeds of sale do not cover the full amount you owe to the creditor, you may continue to owe the creditor money.

You must not create or allow to be created any security interest over the secured property (other than security interests in favour of the creditor). If a security interest is created over the secured property in breach of the contract, the creditor may repossess the secured property. The creditor may also pay the holder of such security interest the amount necessary to discharge it and the creditor may recover any such costs from you.

Default interest charges and default fees

In the event of a default in payment, and while the default continues, you must pay the default interest charges. In the event of a breach of the contract or on the enforcement of the contract, the default fee is specified below and payable by you. Your credit contract may allow the creditor to vary these fees and charges.

Default interest is N/A [description of the amount and how and when default interest charges become payable]

Default fee of $50.00, no other charges are applied during the term of the contract.

FULL PREPAYMENT

If you pay the unpaid balance in full before the final payment is due (full prepayment), you may be required to pay a fee or charge to compensate the creditor for any loss resulting from the full prepayment. The creditor may have suffered a loss if the creditor's current interest rate is lower than the interest rate applying to your original consumer credit contract. You may also have to pay the creditor's administrative costs relating to the full prepayment.

The amount you may have to pay to compensate the creditor for the loss is calculated using the formula prescribed in regulation 9 or regulation 11 of the Credit Contracts and Consumer Finance Regulations 2004.

Administrative costs/fees: $150 plus GST.
